Which Nursery Labels Are Right For Your Ministry?

Our company offers several different styles of labels to meet the special needs of your nursery ministry.

Our 2-Part Labels provide the advantages of including a “stub” for parents to keep and an adhesive label to be placed on children. The stub usually includes basic policy issues pertaining to how parents are summoned and who can pick up children. Both the stub and child label are adhesive. This system meets the needs of the majority of churches.

Our 3-Part Labels combine the stub and child label provided by the 2-Part Labels with a handy adhesive diaper bag tag. The parent stub is actually printed on the back side of the labels and is non-adhesive. Since the parent stub is considerably larger, you have the option of including more policy information.

Our 4-Part Labels are what our staff consider to be the “perfect” label set. In addition to a parent stub and a larger child label, the set contains two smaller labels which can be used to identify personal items such as diaper bags, sippy cups, pacifiers and bottles.

What is Your Paging Policy?

In our experience, churches usually use one of the following policies to summon parents to the nursery when needed:

Permanent Child/Family Numbers is a system where a digital call board or projection system is used to display a number that is permanently assigned to a child or family. With this system, a blank line is printed on the labels for parents to write in the assigned number.

Variable Imprinted Numbers is a system where labels are preprinted with a range of numbers. The call number that is used to summon parents changes from week to week determined by the number on the label that is used. This is the most common method being used. Variable imprinted numbers can also be used in the following ways:

~ Some churches use pagers to summon parents when needed in the nurseries. Churches that use pagers to summon parents can still use variable numbers as a security feature when children are picked up.

~ Some churches do not use pagers or number displays to summon parents. Instead, they send someone from the nurseries to summon the parent in person. Variable imprinted numbers can still play an important roll in your security system as nursery workers compare the number on the stub with the number on the child’s label when children are picked up.

Pagers are used by many churches to summon parents to the nurseries when needed. Pagers can be used for all the children in the nurseries or just those likely to need parental attention such as nursing babies, infants or children of visitors. With this system, a blank line is printed on the labels for parents or nursery workers to write in the assigned pager number. For churches where pagers are not given to all parents, the wording “Pager # If Given” can be printed below the blank line.

Which Color Is Right For You?

Over half the labels we produce are printed on white paper and there is no question that white labels get the job done. Colored labels are popular for a variety of reasons. The obvious reason to use colored labels is that they are pretty! Colors may be chosen because they fit in with a departmental color scheme or used to identify different rooms or age groups within your nursery department. For example, you might have one label design used in your infant nurseries and a different label used for your toddlers. To make sure that the right label is used in the right place, you might have the infant label printed in pastel pink and the toddler label printed in pastel yellow. Some churches use colors to identify individual nursery rooms. If your label is green, your child is in the “Green Room”. We have a large church that has labels printed in nineteen different colors, one color for each of its nineteen different nursery rooms (Wow!).

What Numbers Will You Use?

Our flexible numbering templates make it possible for us to meet your special needs. If you can think of it, we can probably do it. For churches using digital number boards, you will be limited to the number of digits on the board, typically two, three, or four digits. Some churches use different number ranges for different rooms such as 100-199 for the one-year-olds and 200-299 for the three-year-olds. It is common for churches with two or more different label designs to use different number ranges for each label design. Whatever number ranges you chose, try to keep your job simple. If a complicated numbering system requires an hour a week to keep straight, the benefits to the system may not be worth the extra effort.

Logos & Artwork

We are happy to imprint your artwork or logo or you may chose from the images we have in-house . There is no additional charge for the placement of one piece of art.

How Much Information Should You Ask For?

Put yourself in the shoes of a busy parent trying to get one or more toddlers into your nurseries before the choir stops singing. How much time are they going to spend filling out your label? This is a situation where less is more. The less information you ask for, the more information they are likely to give. Use check boxes whenever possible . . . they are quick and easy for parents to use and make it easy for your nursery workers to get the information they need.

Benefit From The Experience Of Others Like You?

Our best ideas come from Nursery Directors like you. The following pages contain label designs used in churches across North America. Your church may have special needs, but these designs can serve as a guide for your own nursery labels. Take the time to explore the various policies and options. It may be that by combining elements from two or more designs your nursery label will develop itself. Make photocopies of labels you like and cut-&-paste elements together. If some of the wording isn’t quite right, cross it out and write corrections in the margins. Our designers have a lot of experience taking such cut-&-paste layouts and returning a great looking proof for you to change or approve.
